Students currently pursuing a degree as a veterinary technician that are interested in working within the zoo and wildlife field are invited to apply for placement in the St. Louis Zoo's veterinary hospital. Students may receive credit through their college/university under the direction of a faculty advisor, while obtaining practical hands-on work experience during this internship. Under the general supervision of the Animal Health team, students will perform radiographs, lab work, patient care, administrative tasks, and hospital maintenance, and assist with surgery and anesthesia. Hours are flexible; however, students are expected to work at least 20 hours per week, Monday – Friday. Students must adhere to the policies and procedures of the Saint Louis Zoo and the expectations of the university/college agreement and professional curricula. This position is unpaid and applicants are responsible for their own accommodations and transportation.
